

CURRICULUM VITAE

Jamila Javadova-Spitzberg, DMA

Assistant Professor

University of Texas at Arlington, Arlington, Texas, United States

Contact and identifiers

Full name (as in publications)	Jamila Javadova-Spitzberg
Name in Azerbaijani	Cəmilə Cavadova-Spitzberg
Country of residence	United States
ResearchGate / LinkedIn / website	https://www.youtube.com/@jjavadova-spitzberg
Scientific field	Music (organ and historical keyboards)

Profile summary

Jamila Javadova-Spitzberg is an assistant professor at the University of Texas at Arlington, where she teaches organ and harpsichord. She holds a Doctor of Musical Arts degree in performance from the University of North Texas (2008), a Master of Music from the Azerbaijan State Conservatory (1986), and further qualifications from the Conservatorium van Amsterdam, the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, and the Leopold Mozart Center in Augsburg. She performs on organ, harpsichord, and historical fortepiano, and in 2017 she founded the Azerbaijan-American Music Foundation, of which she is executive director. In 2022 she received the Tarraggi Medal of the Republic of Azerbaijan.

Education

Years	Degree	Field / thesis title	Institution, city, country
May 2008	DMA	Performance (organ), with a minor in music theory; thesis on A. van Noordt, Tabulatuurboek van Psalmen en Fantasyen (1659); supervisor: Dr. Lenora McCroskey	University of North Texas, Denton, Texas, United States
	Certificate	Historical keyboard instruments; one-year fellowship	Leopold Mozart Center, Augsburg, Germany
July 2000	Muziek 1e fase, Orgel	Performance	Conservatorium van Amsterdam, Amsterdam, Netherlands
July 1997	LRSM	Performance	Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, United Kingdom
June 1986	MM	Music theory and performance (double major); organ study with Dr. T. Yagubova	Azerbaijan State Conservatory, Baku, Azerbaijan

Academic and professional positions

Years	Position	Department / unit	Institution, city, country
present	Assistant Professor (organ and harpsichord)		University of Texas at Arlington, Arlington, Texas, United States
2017–present	Founder and Executive Director	Azerbaijan-American Music Foundation	United States

Awards, honors and fellowships

Year	Award / honor	Awarding body
2022	Tarraggi Medal	President of the Republic of Azerbaijan

Teaching

Years	Course	Level	Institution
	Individual lessons in piano, organ, and harpsichord; history of keyboard instruments; historical performance practice; group performance; music theory and ear training; keyboard proficiency; music history and appreciation		University of Texas at Arlington; also University of North Texas, University of Texas at Dallas, Baku Music Academy, and a private studio
	Organ performance masterclasses		Baku Music Academy, Baku, Azerbaijan

Invited talks and conference participation

Year	Event, place	Type	Title of talk
2024	With the Azerbaijan State Symphony Orchestra, Baku, Azerbaijan	Solo	Organ Concerto in G minor by F. Poulenc (29 November 2024)
2022	Salzburg, Austria	Performance	Performance on W. A. Mozart's 1782 Walter fortepiano
2018	Washington National Cathedral, Washington, United States	Solo	Solo program (April 2018)