

CURRICULUM VITAE

Kamran Rustamov, DSc

Professor and scientific director

Center for Modeling Political Communications, Moscow, Russian Federation

Contact and identifiers

Full name (as in publications)	Kamran Rustamov
Name in Azerbaijani	Rüstəmov Kamran Ənvər oğlu
Country of residence	Russian Federation
Scientific field	Engineering; oil and gas; building climatology

Profile summary

Kamran Rustamov is scientific director of the Center for Modeling Political Communications in Moscow. The CV describes him as a doctor of technical sciences, professor, and Honored Science Worker of the Republic of Azerbaijan. It states scientific training in the United Kingdom in 1977–1978 and that he rose from assistant to head of department and defended candidate and doctoral dissertations. From 1991 to 1992 he was a state counselor to the President of Azerbaijan. The CV states more than 300 scientific works, monographs, textbooks, and articles.

Education

Years	Degree	Field / thesis title	Institution, city, country
1977–1978	Scientific training		United Kingdom

Academic and professional positions

Years	Position	Department / unit	Institution, city, country
	Scientific director		Center for Modeling Political Communications, Moscow, Russian Federation
2000s	Chief representative for Turkey and Iraq; director general; chairman of the board		Sibur; MIR LLC; Iskra-Energetika, Russian Federation
1990s	Head of companies		Turkey and the Middle East
1991–1992	State counselor to the President		Republic of Azerbaijan

Research metrics

Indicator	Value	Source	Date checked
Scientific works, monographs, textbooks, and articles	More than 300	CV

Awards, honors and fellowships

Year	Award / honor	Awarding body
2020	Medal for services in diaspora activity	Republic of Azerbaijan
1986	Order of Friendship of Peoples
	Honored Science Worker	Republic of Azerbaijan